

ONE STATE OR TWO?:

A brief guide to solving the Israeli–Palestinian conflict

| Hardline Pro-Palestinian  | Moderate Pro-Palestinian   | Moderate Pro-Israel  | Hardline pro-Israel  |
|---|--|--|--|
| Zero sum solution providing justice for Palestinians only – One State: Greater Palestine. Demands that Israeli Jews surrender, and give up statehood. | Win-win solution providing partial justice for both sides – Two States: Palestine and Israel. This perspective is critical of key assumptions of Zionism, but still believes Israeli Jews have a right to statehood. | Win-win solution providing partial justice for both sides – Two States: Israel and Palestine. This perspective is critical of key aspects of Palestinian political culture, but still believes they are entitled to a state. | Zero sum solution providing justice for Israelis only – One State: Greater Israel. Demands that Palestinians surrender, and give up claims to statehood. |
| Abolish Israel by violent or other means  | Accept Israel’s existence within Green Line borders  | Support creation of Palestinian State in West Bank and Gaza Strip alongside Israel   | Support territorial expansion of Israel to include most or whole of West Bank.   |
| Create Palestine in place of Israel   | Create independent and contiguous Palestinian State alongside Israel   | Create Palestinian State alongside Israel  | Oppose Palestinian State   |
| Demand coerced return of millions of 1948 Palestinian refugees to Green Line Israel   | Accept that most if not all refugees requesting to return will need to be resettled within Palestinian State   | Recognise Palestinian suffering in 1948 War, but reject any return of refugees to Green Line Israel  | Oppose any recognition of Palestinian refugee rights   |
| Demand that Palestinian Arabs living within Green Line Israel be recognised as a national community and component of larger Arab and Islamic nation   | Accept that Palestinian national claims will mainly be progressed within a Palestinian State, rather than within Israel  | Support full civil and political equality for all Arab citizens of Israel  | Oppose any recognition of political rights for Arabs living within Israel or the West Bank.  |

Reprinted from Boycotting Israel is Wrong, copyright by Philip Mendez and Nick Dyrenfurth (Sydney: NewSouth Publishing, 2015). Reprinted with permission.

